

Every year, The AWC is privileged to partner with local area school districts to host a Bully Prevention Poster Contest. Each year students of all ages are encouraged to create posters that demonstrate how they, their peers, and community members to stand up against bullying and promote inclusion. Winning students receive recognition in front of their respective school boards, a certificate of achievement, a calendar featuring their artwork, as well as a cash prize with matching funds to support their school's Positive Behavioral Intervention and Supports (PBIS) program.
